

Reference for Wilson Kevin James

English translation of Arbeitszeugnis

Mr. Kevin James Wilson, born on March 1966 and of British nationality, was employed by RM IT Professional Resources AG between 1st May 2008 and 31st October 2013 with a full (100%) workload. During that period he was deployed as an ADA developer with our client, Postfinance AG, at their premises in Bern.

His responsibilities essentially included the following tasks:

- Analysis and implementation of the technical and operational requirements in computer science models (design) while taking into consideration business processes, transactions, components, data and interfaces
- Establishment of system requirements (functional and qualitative requirements)
- Creation and maintenance of the documentation for ZV-IS GUI (Test, Application, User Manual)
- Creation or selection of suitable methods, techniques, standards, guidelines and tools for software development
- Setting up and maintenance of the development and testing environment
- Coding, integration and testing on diverse platforms
- Analysis and rectification of production problems (level 3) including stand-by duties

We are happy to issue Mr. Wilson with this reference letter for an extremely committed, motivated and very reliable employee. Owing to his outstanding perception abilities, his talent and interest, Mr. Wilson was able to quickly acquaint himself with this complex and fast-changing working environment. He was also able to apply his outstanding technical expertise purposefully, due to his long-standing professional experience. We would particularly like to highlight his sound technical expertise as well as his excellent communication skills. Mr. Wilson was always open to changes or new plans, and he actively participated in drafting and implementing them. Thanks to his quick, very precise and conscientious work methods, as well as his outstanding organisational style, Mr. Wilson was able to deliver very good services which always surpassed our expectations both qualitatively and quantitatively.

We found Mr. Wilson to be a resolute and very reliable member of staff who was able to integrate himself well into our team, thanks to his high sense of teamwork and loyalty. Given his outgoing personality, Mr. Wilson always contributed to the good working atmosphere within the team. He executed his assignments with an extraordinary sense of duty. He made regular reports about his own area of work, forwarded crucial information at the right time and sought assistance from his bosses in difficult situations. He always managed to expound on proposals in a clear, comprehensible manner, and was able to contribute effectively during technical discussions. His exemplary behaviour as well as his highly collegial and friendly disposition was very much appreciated by fellow employees of all grades. Mr. Wilson always behaved in an unobjectionable and exemplary manner towards the clients, his bosses and also his fellow employees.

The fixed-term work contract with Mr. Wilson was terminated by the client for economic reasons with effect from 31st October 2013. We thank Mr. Wilson for his commitment and valuable teamwork, and we wish him all the best and lots of success in his future engagements.
